PF assists in 1st Tour d'Apple

Pinnacle Falls is now on the map...the Tour d'Apple map, that is.

On Monday, Sept 2, the entrance of Pinnacle Falls was the location for one of the water and rest stations for the first Tour d'Apple Cycling Tour.

Pinnacle Falls property owners Renee Kidwell, Kathleen Nance, George Rash, and Yvette Freeman Rash even helped set up and man the station, giving out water and Gatorade, peanut butter sandwiches, apple slices, energy gels, brownies, and other refreshments.

Renee Kidwell (far right) helps to pass out water, Gatorade, and snacks to the cyclists on the Honey Crisp Unbelievable route.

Although PF property manager and accomplished cyclist, A.J. Ball, chose the 100 kilometer Gala Challenge route, he made a detour to the PF water stop to...rest.

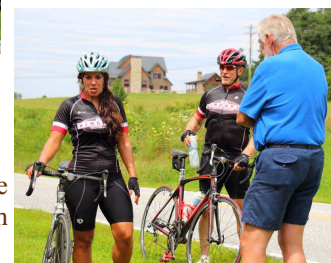

Three cyclists check the map to see how far they have to go to Jump Off Rock.

One of the cyclists takes a much needed break.

PF volunteer, Kathleen Nance, refills a water bottle for one of the cyclists.

Bob Engstrom, of Four Seasons Rotary, talks with a couple of cyclists.

Hosted by the Four Seasons Rotary of Hendersonville, and sponsored by Park Ridge Health, the event offered nearly 1,000 cyclists three different routes to choose from — the Honey Crisp Unbelievable, 100 miles with six mountain climbs over 8,000 feet of ascent on Sugarloaf Mountain, Pinnacle Mountain, and Jump Off Rock; the Gala Challenge, 100 kilometers with three mountain climbs over 3,000 feet of ascent on Sugarloaf Mountain, Bearwallow Mountain, and Terry's Gap; and the Green Apple Easy, meant for novice cyclists, and just 25 miles with only 1,000 feet of ascent.

Four Seasons Rotary hopes to make the Tour d'Apple an annual event as part Hendersonville's annual Apple Festival Weekend activities.

POA makes annual donation to Green River Fire & Rescue department

For the second consecutive year, the POA has donated $500 to the Green River Fire & Rescue department.

POA Board Chairman Yvette Freeman Rash hand-delivered the check to Fire Chief Bobby Dodson during the department's weekly meeting on Sept 9. Other board members and property owners in attendance were Treasurer Gayden Gauthier, who also made a personal donation to the fire department at the meeting; Secretary Grady Nance, and George Rash.

The POA Board voted last year to make a $500 annual donation to the fire department.

Now that the leaves are starting to turn to their beautifully vivid colors, it's time for our first Fall Photo Contest.

Submit your best non-professional photographs illustrating the fall colors. Photos can be of the mountains, leaves, trees, flowers, barns, wildlife, etc. However, they must have a fall theme.

For examples of some great fall photos, check out this website: <http://www.yankeemagazine.com/article/slide-shows-pictures/fall-photo-winners>.

Photos must be in color; JPG format (10 MB or less), and must include your name and a one or two line caption. Up to four photos may be submitted per household. Entries must be submitted no later than November 20.

The winning photo will be featured in the December PF Gazette, and the winner will receive an 11x14 canvas print of their winning photo. All Pinnacle Falls property owners may enter. Email submissions to contactynf@gmail.com.

Carlson's host cookout at their river pavilion

"Now this is a pavilion!"

That's the phrase Ed and Phyllis Carlson probably heard numerous times during a Pinnacle Falls cookout they hosted at their pavilion on the Big Hungry River on September 14.

Nearly 20 property owners showed up to see Ed and Phyllis' beautiful pavilion, completed last year, right next to the river.

British cars invade Jackson Park

Several TR3's were on display during the car show.

The British invaded Jackson Park on Saturday, September 28.

The British Car Club of Western North Carolina hosted its 14th Annual Autumn in the Mountains charity car show. The event featured dozens of classic and antique British cars.

This was the third year the event was held at Jackson Park in Hendersonville.

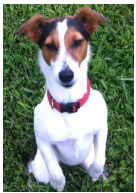

Proceeds benefit Meals on Wheels in Henderson and Buncombe counties.
